YOUR SCHOOL But its partially built border wall is a reminder, in the end, of unfulfilled promises. However, Democrats, former U.S. and Mexican officials, immigrant advocates and migration experts agree: It remains a symbol of Trump's presidency, defined from the outset by anti-immigrant rhetoric and headline policies. ãWhat he accomplished in four years with the wall could have been done in a bipartisan way with less noise. But that was never the point. It wasn't about the wall. "said Andrew Selee, president of the Non-Partisan Migration Policy Institute. "It was always about a bigger symbolism about the wall outside America of external dangers", Selee added. The 452-mile border wall that has been built is only a fraction of the U.S.-Mexico border. And only a small portion of the 452 miles ã about 40 miles since December 18, according to a customs and border protection report released by nonpartisan Factcheck.org ã is a newly built wall where no one existed before. ãIt really is a failureã said Rep. Henry Cuellar (D-Texas), a lawmaker who represents part of the border. "Instead of saying let's heal the country together. This isn't happening. His priority is the fence. His priorities are his priorities and not the country." On Tuesday afternoon, Trump used his speech largely as a victory lap for his administration's immigration policies, arguing that "it ended the immigration chaos and re-established American sovereignty." "We have reformed our immigration system and reached the safest southern border in the history of the United States", Trump said in a 22-minute speech with the border wall as a backdrop. Migration experts question the success of Trump's Wall and policies as there have been repeated illegal crossings of the U.S.-Mexico border during his presidency. Some Democrats and immigrant supporters said they were concerned about the potential for violence during Trump's visit - especially given the president's recent insurgency and anti-immigrant rhetoric. "It's incredibly dangerous", said Alida Garcia, vice president of advocacy at FWD.us, a group of bipartisan. ãWe've seen President Trump launch his campaign from the first two minutes to call a war on citations along the border and against immigrants, Latinos, asylum seekers and Mexicans.ã The Trump administration has spent more than $15 $15 On the Wall Border project ã € ã, "All coming from both appropriations from the Congress or from the funds diverted by the Department of Defense. None of these was paid by Mexico - a promise Trump repeatedly made in the 2016 campaign path, but that It was completely closed by Mexican officials under two different administrations. The acting commissioner of the CBP Mark Morgan said in a print call last week the agency has already funding to complete another 300 miles of barriers and aims to award contracts for The construction before the Chairman elected Joe Biden take charged. Biden previously underestimated that there are no other foot of walls built "during his administration, but the existing contracts could complicate efforts to stop some building. He also said he does not throw parts of the wall built under Trump. BIDEN will be under pressure to follow a long list of things to do that includes a long immigration that includes most of Trump immigration policies - and delivering more pro-immigrant policies compared to President Barack Obama, which has been nicknamed ã € ã, - ã "Deporter in the head. ã »Trump's visit is the first time he came out in public from the deadly clash to the Capitol. In the last few days, he has been more and more isolated, still complained about the elections he lost to Biden, and not having events on him daily program. Meanwhile, several Trump administration officials have resigned after the insurrection. Monday, recite the Security Homeland Chad Wolf secretary announced that it would come from its position, quoting ã € ã, - ã "recent events", including recent judicial judgments that challenge the legality of its appointment instead. ã € ã, - ã "These events and concerns are increasingly needed to define attention and resources from the important work of the Department at this critical moment of a transition of power. ã € ã, - ã "wrote wolf in a letter to the department. The White House does not He shared the journey that accompanied the president in his Texas trip in advance or he would have met once, but Trump gave a shoutaut in Morgan, who was in the audience. Meanwhile, Gov. Republican Texas Abbott and Lt. Gov. Dan Patrick was not present to meet Trump. Instead, they were at Austin Tuesday for the first day of the Texas legislative session, reported Texas Tribune. The members of the County of Hidalgo GOP, however, were "per all The conservatives, patriots and fighters of freedom "on Facebook and Twitter to accommodate Trump to the border area with poster. While Biden has won comfortably in Latin-majority county, it's one of the areas of South Texas where Trump has made its most significant improvements in the 2020 elections. Trump has increased its numbers in the County of Hidalgo by over 23% compared to the 2016, but still lost in 17%. There by Alamo Monday afternoon said that Trump's administration did not formally contact the president's journey, which was announced on weekends. Robert Salinas, Managing Director of the city of Alamo, exhorted everything that allJames Darling, mayor of the nearby town of McAllen, said he understands emotions are strong on both sides, but he called for peaceful demonstrations. Other Texas Border Democrats, like Reps. Vicente GonzãÁlez and Filemon Vela, on Monday urged Trump to cancel the trip and for elected officials to boycott his visit. Vela stressed that Trump should focus less on the wall and more on the pandemic, given how hard the Rio Grande Valley was hit by Covid-19. "If the President insists on continuing this expensive journey, he should not show up empty-handed. He should bring hundreds of thousands of doses of vaccine and the military personnel needed to help inoculate the inhabitants of South Texas", said Vela.
